GENERATION TO GENERATION

“From the very beginning of this adventure, we have witnessed many wonderful moves of God and victories innumerable, with countless hearts touched, souls saved, lives transformed, and faith strengthened.”

— MATT CROUCH

Dear Partner and Friend,

As we step into a new year and new opportunities God is placing before this ministry, Laurie and I can't help but look back on TBN's more than half century of fruitful outreach across the earth, and the countless souls who have been won to Christ through the partnership of individuals like you.

Marked by both incredible victories, along with more than a few challenges, the entirety of this unforgettable journey has been nothing less than a testament to the unwavering faithfulness of God "from generation to generation," as Scripture declares, "One generation shall praise your works to another, and shall declare your mighty acts" (Psalm 145:4, NKJV).

Most of our longtime TBN partners will recall the first-generation miraculous beginnings of this network, launched by my parents, Paul and Jan Crouch, when they heard God's voice, stepped out in faith on a totally unknown path, and were met with His miraculous guidance and provision. More than fifty years later, as TBN's second-generation leadership, Laurie and I continue this journey of faith, joined in partnership with friends and co-laborers like you—and with the same total dependence upon God.

From the very beginning of this adventure, we have witnessed many wonderful moves of God and victories innumerable, with countless hearts touched, souls saved, lives transformed, and faith strengthened. The fact that you're reading this letter no doubt means that you've been personally impacted by TBN programming at some point in your journey, and have joined us to help touch others with God's hope and grace. Thank you for standing with us in this outreach.

As I heard my father say many times throughout his lifetime, while this adventure has included many victorious "mountains high," we've also faced plenty of what he called "valleys low," times when our faith was tested to what often seemed like the breaking point. But as Laurie and I can attest, just as my parents did many times before us, it has been in these times of deepest testing that the true essence of God's faithfulness has shined in and through us at its brightest.

Each trial, each test has not only been a testament to the endurance God builds into each of His children as we walk beside Him day by day. It is also a profound confirmation of His unfailing faithfulness to complete the work that He initiated.

In the excerpt from his personal notes below, you can see how my dad described the process of walking "by faith, not by sight," in a deeply reflective handwritten note I recently came across:

"I HAVE A Dream"

JAN. 20 @ 8 & 11p ET

Bishop T.D. Jakes and Dr. Rick Rigsby host this TBN special honoring the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The key takeaway in all of this is God's faithfulness both yesterday, today, and tomorrow, regardless of the testings and trials we face. His purposes are multigenerational, beginning with my parents and the partners who helped establish TBN, continuing with the outreach God is doing through us today, and looking ahead with anticipation to the next generation and beyond.

Dear friend, never forget that God's faithfulness in this outreach "from generation to generation" includes individuals like you. Just as my parents relied on the prayer and support of a core of partners as they founded TBN, today we rely on your partnership, prayer, and committed support as we continue to broadcast the good news of Jesus 24 hours a day. Likewise, in the not too distant future we will pass the baton that we received on to those who are next in line to lead this outreach for God's kingdom. At the end of the day, this network and the incalculable harvest that is happening around the world belong to each and every one of us who says "yes" to God's call.

I don't know how else to say it: thank you for your faithfulness in prayer, partnership, and your vital monthly financial support. From generation to generation, individuals like you are at the very heart of this ministry of God's love to the nations.

With love and gratitude,

Matt & Laurie
