

JUCE TV Monthly Report

This past month, JUCE TV hosted an open house for youth pastors and parachurch youth ministries. Churches within a two hour radius of TBN headquarters in Tustin were specifically invited, but some pastors came as far as Fresno, California to attend. One of the purposes for the evening was to invite and encourage youth groups to be a part of our JUCE Live studio audience every Friday evening. We were encouraged when over forty different youth pastors or ministries like Intervarsity signed up to be on our email list for audience invites. In addition to speaking about JUCE Live, we also reached out with other ways we hope churches and young people will engage with JUCE TV. A handful of our hosts shared their hearts as to why they are a part of this network. It was encouraging to see both the diversity and depth of many of our hosts who share a love for Jesus and believe in the ministry of TBN and JUCE TV. We also appreciated Pastor D and Tramaine from the prayer ministry assisting in hosting our guests.

November 11th was Veterans Day, and JUCE TV participated in a special event to honor a select group of about 200 veterans in the Southern California region, many of whom have suffered injuries or PTSD as a result of their recent service abroad. The event was spearheaded by longtime friends to JUCE TV, Extreme Life Ministries, and it featured a number of pro freestyle motocross (FMX) riders including Ronnie Faisst, Nate Adams, Jimmy Fitzpatrick, Taka Higashino, Destin Cantrell, and Derek Garland. Many of these riders charge upwards of $25,000 to participate in events like this, but they donated their time to say thank you to those who have sacrificed to allow us the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Veterans were honored at the Freedom Jam

Pro FMX rider Ronnie Faisst and his wife with host Claire Burdick.

One of the highlights of this event was witnessing the spiritual growth of Metal Mulisha co-founder Ronnie Faisst who expressed in an interview with JUCE TV that this year God opened his eyes to help him realize that he is a minister first and a professional athlete second – a powerful witness for young people. In addition to the motocross, there were music, speakers, an awards ceremony, and ministry taking place. JUCE TV was honored to participate in thanking our military veterans.

Freedom Jam was not the only Veterans Day special on JUCE TV. JUCE Live had a Veterans Day show with many wonderful guests, including former navy seal Chad Williams, who shared his powerful testimony. In addition to the Veterans Day JUCE Live, we had other amazing guests on the show this month, including professional skateboarder Christian Hosoi, singer-songwriter Meleana Brown, indie band Serenade and Strum, and Khloe Thompson from Khloe Kares.

JUCE Live hosts Stephanie Ortiz and Pastor Koty Maywhort.

Khloe Thompson from Khloe Kares.

Serenade and Strum.

Music artist Tiffany Sinko.

Rap artist HOPP.

Pro skateboarder Christian Hosoi.

Besides Veterans Day we also taped several Thanksgiving and Christmas episodes of our regularly produced shows. Top 3's Christmas special featured American Idol finalist Joanna Beasley, and it was chock-full of fun (not to mention some of the ugliest Christmas sweaters of 2016)! Most importantly, all of the JUCE TV shows made it clear that Christmas is about Christ and His message of God's love for this world!

Having holiday fun on Top 3.

John Morgan, aka George W. Bush Impersonator.

Brittany, Joey, Willie, and Kelly of Top 3.

TBN Nashville finished the first complete season of an exciting new show called Next, hosted by Danny Gokey of American Idol. Danny will mentor and introduce some of the top up-and-coming Christian artists of today.

We continue to work on a website update for JUCE TV that we hope to launch in January of 2017. Also changing at the beginning of the year will be Top 3 (new name and segments) and several parts for JUCE Live. Stay tuned!

