

KTBO Oklahoma City
Report for January 2016
Linda Cook, Station Manager

Joy in Our Town

Joy in Our Town guests during the month of January are shown below:

Denise Howard with the Oklahoma City County Health Department provided information about the Child First program that offers assistance to first time moms.

Savannah Kalman from the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health offered tips and guidance for suicide prevention.

Kerry Mucker, a Veteran's Specialty Courts Liaison, talked about different types of needs for veterans and their families

Tom Boone, Clinical Director for A Chance to Change, brought to light addiction issues, including drugs, alcohol, and gambling.

Community Outreach

Pictured above with the KTBO Station Manager Linda Cook are two residents of one of three “Hope Is Alive” Ministry homes for men desiring to be mentored and come out of drug addiction, alcoholism, and other life issues. The program was started only three years ago with a former drug addict who had lost his family and everything. There are now three men’s homes and one just started a few months ago for women. They have a need for bedding, dishes, towels, glasses, etc., and KTBO has provided some of these for this very worthy ministry. Seth Brown, who is about to finish the program and graduate, is shown below as he was an interview guest on our Praise the Lord program. What a great testimony of how he and his wife were very close to divorce, and now after several months their marriage is being restored.

Local Praise the Lord

Pastor Terry Bates of OKC Faith Church visits with Pastor Doug Brown and Trudy Hoffsommer from Metropolitan Baptist Church about ministering to singles.

Nick Smith praises the Lord with song during our Praise the Lord program.

Pastor Bates and Latino Pastor George Encarnacion from OKC Faith Church discuss his vision for the Latino ministry.

Pastor Ted Miller with Crossroads Church is visiting with the new children's pastor.

Paul Abner with Worth the Wait Ministry visits with Pastor Ted Miller from Crossroads Church.

David Edwards with the Gate Church hosted a Praise the Lord program and had two great guests.

Chris and Mary Kuti, worship leaders with Life Church, brought great music and worship to our program. Chris was also an interview guest, talking about worship and praise in the church.

Seth Brown, Director of Operations at Hope is Alive Ministries and also a residence in one of their drug recovery homes, gave a very inspirational and miraculous testimony about his marriage since being at Hope is Alive.
