Ty Tribbett and Todd Delaney

Local Praise The Lord Program!

Todd Delaney / The man behind the music? “All I ever wanted was for people to worship God thru my music”, stated Todd Delaney. Todd played for the New York Mets organization and God pulled him out to sing to the nations. He knew while he was playing ball that something was going on inside. He couldn’t get away with everything his friends were getting away with. It was a faith thing for him and it happened right away. The craziest thing about living by faith is most of the time people close to you are wrong. “They are right in their logic but it goes against the Word of God,” said Ty. “God has opened so many doors, ‘Look at me I’m on TBN’, but I encourage each of you to be patient and rest in him. Rest in Jesus and don’t rush.

Ty Tribbett says pastoring, preaching, teaching, and music have been a balance over the years because his dad was a pastor and his mom was over the choir, so he learned at an early age. “I’m known for my energy,” says Tribbett, “and sometimes I don’t like it.” Because I can be sitting in an airport, for example, and just want to hold a conversation and people will want me to jump. I am glad and honored that I can inspire young people to be active worshipers. We are free in Jesus so we should honor, reverence, and celebrate Him. God is so huge but we want to keep him in this small box. We even say that Praise and Worship is slow and fast music and that’s not what praise and worship is at all. I grew up very traditional and some of what they taught was incorrect and some of what they taught was incomplete. I believe that’s what we need to reveal to this younger generation. I wasn’t allowed to listen to secular music but when I became old enough to listen to the jazz, R&B, country, it opened my mind and opened me up in my music. I never in a million years thought I’d be where I am today, but all I can say is “Thank You, Lord.”

Host—Pastor Tim Bowman, Calvary Church of the Quad Cities

Our local Praise the Lord host, Pastor Tim Bowman, welcomed Pastor Aloran, who recalled: “I’ve been in ministry since 1999. I grew up in New Jersey and worked as a DJ, but I didn’t have a father and was doing a little bit of everything.” At the age of 19 God came to him and said, “I’m going to use you to spread the message of love. I’m going to send you all over the world, to places you’ve never been before.”

Pastor Bowman asked Pastor Aloran what he feels some of the biggest issues are that face today’s church. “Churches need to go back to being the light and salt in the places where God has placed them,” he said. “The church does a lot of great things but being the light is important to others coming to Christ.” Pastor Aloran suggested that our surroundings should be different because of our churches. “Just imagine if your church wasn’t there,” he challenged. “Would the neighborhood be the same? My heart is for the church to be the church that God has created it to be.”

Sermon Joshua 2: 1-14

Pastor Aloran told the story of a young lady, Judy, who has spread her love all around and gotten very little in return. Judy is broken. “She isn’t a prostitute or on drugs or anything like that,” explained Pastor Aloran. “She just feels lost and broken. Judy is much like Rahab in the scriptures. I would love to tell you that her story is a rarity but it’s not. We are all broken, we are no different, and everything we do is a mirror reflection of what’s going on inside of us. Rahab is introduced in Chapter 2 of Joshua, but unlike Judy, her story ends in blessings. Two spies were sent to spy on the land. The two spies didn’t have a clue what they were doing, but they learned from Rahab. They ended up at her house because God wanted to save the broken.” Pastor Aloran went on to say that “we can’t turn our nose up on Rahab or Judy or people of that character because in one sense we are them. Our hope and joy is in the fact that God openly pursues broken people.”

Volunteer Recruitment

WMWC-TV 53 had the opportunity to present intern opportunities to students majoring in communications, graphic design, and many more. We were able to share the different things we do at our station and in the community. Also, how much it would benefit them to volunteer with media. The program is called C.O.R.E. which stands for Careers/Opportunities/Research/Exploration. I love the acronym as TBN stands behind any person wanting to achieve their goals!
