
WWRS Public Relations Report May 2016

Joy In Our Town

Meta House President and CEO Amy Lindner spoke about substance abuse and what women need to do to break addiction.

The Open Door Coffeehouse Founder and President Amber Schraufnagel discussed youth and how we can provide a positive environment for them to excel.

Hebron House of Hospitality Executive Director Kris Androsky communicated preventive measures to homelessness as well as assistance to those who are homeless.

Repairers of the Breach Pastor James West spoke on the topic of helping homeless adults.

Zachariah's Acres President Terry Bartowitz stated his views on how we can connect special needs children with nature.

Leadership Team member Kathy Knoll and 5-Stones Founder Tracy Scheffler articulated their experiences about crime and in particular, sex trafficking that's taking place in the area.

Dr. Shone Bagley expressed his thoughts about health and codependency in families. He holds a Ph.D. in Divinity and in Psychiatry.

Lifeline Connection President Cindy Hartt told the viewer's her son's experience with substance abuse and how her company is providing opportunities to other youth to help them overcome addiction.

Praise The Lord

Pastor Paul J. Hoover of Souls Harbor Baptist Church in Milwaukee and his wife Michelle were featured along with Paul's father, Pastor Paul D. Hoover on our show. They reflected on the history of their church they planted in our area back in 1986.

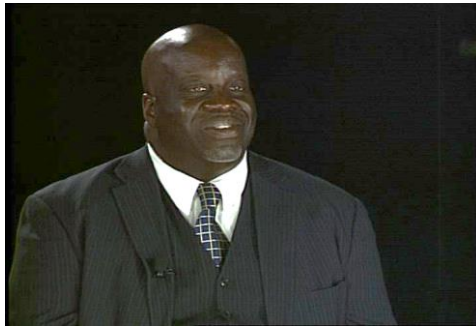

Bishop C.H. McClelland of Holy Cathedral COGIC hosted a local show that included his wife Lady Prentiss McClelland as well as Evangelist Mildred Coby of Christian Faith Fellowship Church. They spoke on the issue of women in ministry.

Pastor John Davis of Poplar Creek Church was joined on the show by his guests Tom Jenkins, Dr. Landy Bonelli and his wife Pastor Dana Bonelli. Their discussion centered around Dana and her recent experience with cancer. They talk about their faith in God and how much that played a role in her recovery.

My Story

Pastor Arthur Johnson is featured as the subject for our latest “My Story” segment. He talks about being homeless and addicted to drugs when he was younger living in New York City. Eventually he found his way to Milwaukee via Chicago and because of TBN and learning from many of the excellent preachers on our broadcasts, he’s now happily married and is the Lead Pastor of Eternal Life COGIC in Milwaukee. PTL!!

Community Outreach

WWRS Station Manager Tim D’Agostino and Public Affairs Manager Jackie Kahlhamer attended the 2016 Wisconsin Governor’s Prayer Breakfast for the National Day of Prayer. Some of the featured speakers were Wisconsin Governor Scott Walker and former Green Bay Packer John Anderson among others. Video greetings and messages from NFL Quarterback Colt McCoy and Speaker of the House Paul Ryan were also played for the crowd. The event was held at the Italian Conference Center in Milwaukee. It was great to see such a large gathering of people for such an important day.

WWRS 1275 N. Barker Rd. Brookfield, WI 53045 262-796-9943

WWRS 1275 N. Barker Rd. Brookfield, WI 53045 262-796-9943