Changing the World One Heart at a Time

Be joyful always; pray continually; give thanks in all circumstances, for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus
1 Thessalonians 5: 16-18, NIV

WWTO 35 is proud to be able to add to our local community through the avenue of Joy In Our Town. The beginning of November jump-started a power-packed month. Pastor Mel Flowers from Kingdom Harvest Family Church and Chris Baker, founder of ink 180, joined us. Topics included homelessness, mental health, and life transformation coming from gangs and human trafficking.

Joy in Our Town

Joy In Our Town continued with our new host, Dr. Glenda McCullum, coming on board. Marcus Cage, Pastor Chris Hudson, Marilyn Farmer, and Minister Kurt Williams joined us on the set. During this season, we discussed a number of issues concerning homelessness and different family topics. Our guests gave some great content and solutions to some of those issues.

Pray for America

Our nation has been facing conflict, and the only way to bring peace and resolution is through prayer and the demonstration of the love of God. Pastor Barbra joined us here in the studio for a time of prayer for our nation and the election. The prayers of the righteous are what pushes forth the agenda of the Lord concerning this great nation we live in.

Jabez Book & Business Expo

Station manager Emily Young was invited to speak on a media panel in Dallas. The topic at hand was concerning how to host and run a successful media ministry. Emily also took part in an amazing graduation ceremony. Some of the panel members and graduation facilitators were Dr. Shirley Clark, owner of Jabez Books, Dr. Kenesia Mouton, Dr. Thelma Wells, and Dr. Lei Lewis owner of Women of Wealth, just to name a few.

TBN Family

On her trip to Dallas, Emily also made arrangements to visit our TBN family in Dallas and Kansas City. Sometimes getting a look at what others in the network is doing can help are to moving forward your own vision for your station.

Illinois Media School

WWTO'S Tom Moroniak attended the Illinois Media School career fair. The fair covered opportunities from internships to actual paying jobs in the industry. Tom went to represent WWTO In anticipation of discovering people who might join the WWTO team.
